Weekend Trip Invitation

Subject: Got any plans this weekend?

Hey buddy!

The coolest thing happened to me – I was pre-approved for a credit card! I filled out the application (although I didn't know what to put down for Yearly Salary, since I don't have a job!) and sent it in, and I just got the card today! There's a $10,000 limit on it. Just think, $10,000 of free money, right at my fingertips!

I was hoping you'd want to come upstate with me this weekend. There's a really cool concert that I want to see, and I was planning on renting a car to drive up and getting a hotel room to spend the night. Can you see if your parents will let you come with me? Don't worry about the money – the whole trip is on me and my magic plastic credit card!

Let me know soon!
