KINGSTON: Young, young, young, young, young. You know all of the things that are happening in America, but you don't know much about the life of American women. They're very interesting.

MOVIES: Young, young, young. I mean, you know, but probably not in the same context or in the same way. I mean, when you look at the stars, you see women, but you don't see them in the same way as when you see men. They're very different.

KINGSTON: I mean, you know, when you look at the stars, you see women, but you don't see them in the same way as when you see men. They're very different.

MOVIES: Yes, yes. You know, we like to think of them as weird, but we're not sure. It's a very interesting subject.

KINGSTON: When you think of the life of American women, you think of the stars, but you don't think of the life of American women. We're very interesting.

MOVIES: You're right. We're very interesting.

MOYES: What is the answer to that? Where are you going? Where is your bike?

KINGSTON: Yeah, you're right.

MOYES: Do you think about your bike?

KINGSTON: Yeah, I do think about it. It's just that I'm not sure where it is.

MOYES: Where do you think it is?

KINGSTON: I think it's somewhere in the garage. I just can't find it.

MOYES: Do you think you left it out?

KINGSTON: No, I'm sure I locked it up.

MOYES: What do you think is missing?

KINGSTON: I think it's just the lock. I checked it, and it was still there.

MOYES: Have you tried to find it?

KINGSTON: Yes, I have. I've searched everywhere, but I can't find it.

MOYES: Do you think anyone else might have taken it?

KINGSTON: No, I don't think so. I didn't see anyone around when I left.

MOYES: Do you have any security cameras?

KINGSTON: Yes, I do. I'll check them when I get home.

MOYES: Have you ever had this bike stolen before?

KINGSTON: No, never. This is the first time.

MOYES: Do you think you should get a new lock?

KINGSTON: Yes, I think I should. I don't want it to happen again.

MOYES: Have you tried a new lock?

KINGSTON: No, I haven't. I'll go to the hardware store and pick one up.

MOYES: Do you think you should get a new bike?

KINGSTON: Yes, I think I should. I don't want to lose it again.
