STANDARD TIME.

Complaints About the Articles Offered to Jewelers for Rest Guanmp.

Many persons use the Western Electric Company's new timepieces, and are required to work with them. In a recent case, the company has been informed that a watch was sent to be repaired, and the watchmaker found that it was not the watch he had been given.

The watch was new, and had been examined by the timepieces of the company. The watchmaker subsequently received the timepieces of the company, which were found to be the same as those sent for repair.

He had been given a watch which was of the same type as the one sent for repair, but was not the same watch. The watchmaker subsequently received the timepieces of the company, which were found to be the same as those sent for repair.

The watch was new, and had been examined by the timepieces of the company. The watchmaker subsequently received the timepieces of the company, which were found to be the same as those sent for repair.

He had been given a watch which was of the same type as the one sent for repair, but was not the same watch. The watchmaker subsequently received the timepieces of the company, which were found to be the same as those sent for repair.

The watch was new, and had been examined by the timepieces of the company. The watchmaker subsequently received the timepieces of the company, which were found to be the same as those sent for repair.

He had been given a watch which was of the same type as the one sent for repair, but was not the same watch. The watchmaker subsequently received the timepieces of the company, which were found to be the same as those sent for repair.