World War I Propaganda Posters

Poster showing "The Dawn of Hope," with Abraham Lincoln, an African American soldier, and a farmer and his grandson. States, "Your brethren are now fighting . . . in hopes for equality and justice for the black man."
World War I Propaganda Posters

“Colored Man is No Slacker,” showing an African American soldier about to march off with his regiment, saying goodbye to his wife.
World War I Propaganda Posters

"Duty Calls," nearly identical poster to Image 2, but showing a white couple